Her credits include directing and starring in her own one-woman musical-comedy show, "Ways to Be Wicked," and "Little Doria." She wrote, produced and starred in "The Bus Boys," about three guys in the business who seek love and respect. She received a 2015 Variety Award for Best Actress in a Musical. As he directs his first film "Coraline," writer/director Chris Butler will feature six children's character voices, including first-time Oscar nominee Nathan Lane (Hedwig and the Angry Inch) and Moira Kelly (Disney's "Frozen" and The Last Airbender). A special screening of "Coraline," along with interviews with "Alice in Wonderland" special effects supervisors John Nelson and John C. Reitz, will precede the Hollywood Reel Independent Film Festival on May 3 at Hollywood's Crest Theatre. If you want to improve your knowledge and skills in a specific area, why not consider doing a specialty? "If you want to become a better cinematographer, study cinematography. If you want to become a better writer, study screenwriting. If you want to become a better director, study directing," says co-founder of the festival, Deniz Gamze Ergüven. "Anything." The premiere of the free festival is May 4 at the IFC Center, where the festival will screen 24 indie films, many of which were nominated for the 2015 Academy Awards. Last year, "Coraline" was nominated for Best Animated

The delivery of therapeutic monoclonal antibodies is critically important for the successful development of new therapeutics. The objective of this review is to provide a broad overview of current and emerging strategies for the delivery of monoclonal antibodies (mAbs) to the clinic. The current mAb delivery approaches include site-specific delivery, multidrug resistance (MDR) reversal, MDR-reversing peptides, MDR-targeting strategies, the use of targeting ligands, and receptor-mediated internalization. This review will focus on the strategies aimed at addressing P-glycoprotein (P-gp), a MDR-related efflux transporter, which functions as a drug efflux pump. Furthermore, the relationship between cell-penetrating peptides and mAbs will be reviewed.~ (mg/L) -----
