Blabber for Skype is a plug-in to the Skype Internet phone system that animates your photo-realistic, Big Stage 3 D avatar (called an @ctor) and automatically lip synchs spoken words as part of real-time virtual character conversation. Users can accessorize their @ctor with hair, glasses and cool backgrounds, as well as conveying moods through a dashboard of animated gestures and expressions. Features: The Basics: Lip synch: The avatar mumbles words as you speak. It automatically lip synchs at different volume levels and different word lengths depending on the phone line. There are a total of 8 animated expressions available. Hi, What's up? This is how you start a conversation. Ouch! Your @ctor is not feeling very well right now. Lip synch in Real Time: As you speak, your avatar mumbles words as you talk, but when the other person talks, the words of your @ctor match up in real time. * Volume: When the other person talks, the volume of your @ctor's voice will change automatically based on how loud the other person is talking. * Word length: When the other person talks, your @ctor will pronounce words of different lengths (short, long, and mixed words) to fit the conversation. * Gender: Blabber for Skype lets you change the gender of your @ctor. Chat with Friends: * Blabber will start using your Skype account as soon as it's loaded into Blabber. You can also choose to add your @ctor to a chat room. * You can send messages and communicate with other users through Blabber. Your @ctor will be placed in the center of the group. Your @ctor can reply to messages using the "*" symbol. * Blabber also lets you add your Skype contact list directly to Blabber, which will be a great way to contact your friends using Skype. * Each Skype contact list can be customized by selecting the contacts that you want Blabber to add to your list. * Blabber for Skype allows you to create more than one @ctor. * You can switch between @ctors using the "*" symbol. * Blabber keeps all your Skype contacts in a separate chat room. You can also have multiple conversations with
